GENERAL NOTES.
—West End wants an official organ.
—Cotton receipts by wagon will be quite heavy from now until Christmas week begin.
—The auctioneer of Side jewelry has again invaded our city.
—Girls often find when too late that rich men make poor husbands.
—In the hands of policemen turbulent roustabouts find that their New Year's game is over.
—The street force was out yesterday clearing away the mud.
—Our city is flooded with plenty of fine game.
—Several new buildings are going up in the fifth ward.
—Numerous balls, parties, and hops will be given during Christmas week.
—Our candy merchants are up to their eyes in sweet work.
—Chicken fighting in Atlanta is an amusement that no rarely sees these days.
—Shall we have a parade of the fanatics Christmas day?
—Several excursions will arrive in our city during Christmas week.
—It is rumored that the nation will have a municipal election soon.
—Bill Moore, of Augusta checked his elephant's trunk through to Atlanta. It arrived safely here yesterday.
—Ed. Baldwin is framing a big speech to be delivered by him when the new council is installed.
—Money is reported to be easy in the market, but the man who carries the market-bank finds it rather hard to get.
—The sidewalks in front of many of our warehouses are so crowded with cotton that pedestrians find it quite difficult to get by.
—Our citizens are heartily in favor of having some racing at Oglethorpe park on Christmas day.
—Fine weather for the ladies yesterday, and we were glad to see that they took advantage of it.
—Peanut merchants expect to reap a fine harvest between now and the end of the holidays.
—The little snow that fell Tuesday last was just enough to give us an appetite for more.
—Atlanta is ahead of any other city in the South in the number of gray noses.
—Clint Taylor has not less than fifteen fine ones in his stables to commence with.

Mr. Anderson's Question.
London, December 14.—When Sir Stafford Northcote gave notice in the commons yesterday of the motion for the parliament to grant money in aid to the distressed people in the Rhode mountains, Mr. Anderson, liberal member for the Rhine, on the silence of the opposition leaders, withdrew the amendment to Sir Stafford Northcote's bill, stating that he had no objection to the tax payers money being devoted to the people in Turkey when there was so much distress in Great Britain. It is thought that Mr. Anderson will assume Mr. Anderson's place in order to make an opposition effort and raise a debate on the whole question of the government policy with reference to Turkey.

A Wrestling.
Special dispatch to The Constitution.
Chicago, December 14.—The second wrestling match between J. H. McLaughlin, of Detroit, and John McMahon, of Batavia, Vermont, for $1,000 side and the championship, took place at McCormick's hall, last night. The match was a close one, and McMahon won the match at 220 pounds and two pounds less than last time. McMahon won the first and third falls, and McMahon the second fall. Time, 21, 15, and 12 minutes.

An Unsatisfactory Result.
Special dispatch to The Constitution.
Nashville, December 15.—The joint committee of the Green line and southern rail, and a steamship association having compared the rates from Chicago, Cincinnati and St. Louis with the rates from New Orleans, it was found that they were not satisfactory, and hence they are endeavoring to make a change, but as yet having arrived at no result, they will continue in session on Monday.

Schools' Position.
London, December 14.—The Paris newspaper reports that Count Schouvaloff's accession to the office of minister of the interior will inaugurate a regime which will give effect to the constitution of the empire, and that Count Schouvaloff will draw up while at Livadia. (Note.—The above seems to agree with the Berlin dispatch of yesterday to the point announcing that the czar proposes to appoint collectively a responsible cabinet.)

THE OUTLOOK RIGHT.

Senator Lamar's Propositions for 1880.
Washington Post.
During one of his visits to the senate yesterday a Post reporter, with well poised pen and ready tongue, in the enjoyment of a brief respite from the cares of state, asked the senator, "What do you think, senator, of the Post of the chances of democratic success in 1880?"

The democratic party can succeed in 1880," he replied, "if it will organize wisely and tolerantly, and then work vigorously and harmoniously. It is the majority party in this country, or, rather, its antagonists, the republican party, is vastly in the minority, as the official returns of the polls in several years past will demonstrate. This is true of it, not only throughout the country, but in every section, whether sooner or later, and not later, I think, than in the next presidential election, this popular majority will be made effective at the ballot-box."

Then you don't believe that all this noise about "sound money" will amount to much when inquired into?"

I do not. I am answer for my own state in this country, and I am sure that it was done. The recent election in Mississippi was as peaceful and orderly as any ever held in the union. Every man, black or white, voted as he pleased, and every vote was honestly counted. There was but little organization of the democratic party in the state. The white people were so bowed down and overwhelmed by the negroes, that they thought of nothing but their safety and their sorrow. In many towns every house was suggested of death, and every man had a tale of horror to tell. The election was hardly thought of. The opposition in two districts were better organized than were the democrats. In the district I live in our majority was only one thousand; for several days we were really apprehensive that we were defeated. Every man was so excited, and as the returns came in showing the light vote polled by our party, we almost gave up. One county was carried against us by three hundred and twenty-three majority, and another by something over four hundred. I forget the exact figures. If there had been any strong disposition among the negroes in a body to vote against the democratic party, as is alleged, they could have defeated us, for not one-half the whites in many places went to the polls."

"Senator," said the reporter, "were you accurately reported in the recent interview of the Cincinnati Enquirer, which has been so much and so severely commented upon by the New York Tribune and other republican papers?"

"Entirely accurate," he replied, "perhaps a little polished up, but it is exactly what I would have said if I could have said it exactly as I wanted to. In that interview, in reply to the question, 'What are the prospects of the greenback party in the south?' Senator Lamar answered: 'Well, as to that, so long as the right of the people of the south to self-government is made an issue, the democratic party, in my opinion, ought not to allow any question as to the currency to divide them. The south is more solid in favor of self-preservation than divided as to national politics.'"

"In my district they voted solid for the greenbackers," candidates, critics and all, "do you mean that the federal officers voted that way?"

"I do."

Office of Dooley's Yeast Powder, No. 145 Duane street, New York.

In the Brooklyn Eagle of November 9th, and the Scientific American of the 10th, a most virulent article from the pen of a Mr. Mott, who styles himself a chemist, was published, by the Royal Baking Powder Co., charging that the yeast powder sold by Dooley's Yeast Powder contained alum, the baneful effects of which he emphasized.

Dooley's Yeast Powder is a pure yeast, and we demonstrated the falsity of the charge by the following certificate:

This is to certify that I purchased of Mr. S. H. Williamson, 36 Broadway, a can of Dooley's Baking Powder; that I had biscuits made therewith; that I have analyzed the same, and that they do not contain alum or any other deleterious substance.

Lynch & Thornton respectfully call the attention of the public to the fact that the time is rapidly approaching when a "present" must be given to the friends and relatives. So circumstanced as to be able to offer inducements in the power of but few. We have a run of custom goods to none in our line in Georgia, which enables us to always have the cash to buy our goods as low as money can get them. Our goods are being almost nothing, and our trade large. The intelligent readers will readily see why we can, and do sell at such low prices. We are not, however, inviting inspection of our stock, consisting in part of books, toys, books, picture books, gift books, bibles, poets, books, song books, hymn books; blocks, games, paper soldiers, railroad cars, photograph albums, autograph albums, fancy ink stands, and hundreds of other articles, which we offer at rock bottom prices.

CONSTITUTION OFFICE.

Bonds and Stocks.
The time for investments in bonds and stocks up to the Georgia railroad has been declared by three per cent. dividend, payable on the 20th inst. The Georgia railroad has declared a dividend of three per cent. on the 20th inst. The stocks are advancing steadily, and they are now considered pretty permanent five and six cent. investments. Georgia bonds continue to rise: the sixes now selling at 106, and seven and eights at 112, according to date when due. Atlanta city bonds are very firm and in demand; seven and eights at 106, and nine and eights at 112, according to date when due. This advance is attributed to the fact that it is impossible to issue bonds, except by falling due on the 1st of January next.
